This Program organized In Association with JNT University, Anantapur.

About the Program:

The theme of this year's Human Rights Day is equality - reducing inequalities, advancing human rights. How does this apply to education? Reducing inequalities and advancing human rights can take many forms - but to achieve equality, it is crucial to advance access to free, quality, inclusive education at all levels, from early childhood to adult education. The erode the barriers to access that prevent many from enjoying their right to education, among them girls, young Mothers, minority ethnic communities, people with disabilities, migrant and Refugee Learners and indigenous groups. Underlying all of this is the fundamental quality of education as a right - not a privilege, but a human right to which we are all entitled.

Mr. S. Seetharamudu, NSS programme officer inviting the chief guest Mr.T. Ravi Teja,LLB, Nandyal has addressed the importance of human rights and its equality - reducing inequalities and advancing human rights.
